14.15 – 15.00 Keynote: No one is safe until everyone is safe - the story behind CEPI's R&D partnerships and supporting the COVAX Mission

Speaker: Emma Wheatley, Deputy General Counsel & Head of Business Development, Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations (CEPI)

This session will discuss how CEPI funded academia and industry work from the creation of constructs to the approval of vaccines for emergency use within a year. The opportunities and challenges of the work taken on in partnership by CEPI, Gavi, WHO and UNICEF for the development, procurement, allocation and deployment of vaccines to the World through COVAX against a background of increasing national concerns, the validation of new technologies and supply shortages.

15.00 – 15:15 Tea/Coffee Break

15.15 – 16.00 Agreements to Supply Products in a Time of Shortage

Speaker: Dai Davis, Solicitor, Percy Crow Davis & Co

You can't make something out of nothing. If you are a supplier of a product and you can't make enough of that product, keeping all your customers happy is always going to be an issue. But compounding the problem by not dealing with that potential situation in a contract, especially when a shortage can easily be envisaged, is certainly going to be unhelpful. As we have recently seen in the topical Belgian case of European Commission -v- AstraZeneca.

Dai's talk is not however an analysis of that case nor is the talk focused on vaccines. Rather, Dai will discuss what you should generally do to avoid litigation.

16.00 – 16.45 Keynote: Irn-Bru: Protecting a Heritage Brand

Speaker: Stephen Taylor, Legal Counsel, AG Barr

Stephen Taylor will review the interesting history of the iconic Scottish brand, Irn-Bru, and give some insights on their approach to brand protection and licensing. Stephen will also discuss how they have adapted their strategy over the years, particularly in recent times, to deal with modern challenges.

16.45 – 17.00 Closing Address
